Next Week in Maryville--

Tivoli Theater to Boost Loan Fund

The Tivoli Theater will feature the movie "Gaby" for the Student Benefit campaign this year. It is hoped that this will prove a great boost for the loan fund in the bolstering of its finances. The movie will appear at the Tivoli, October 10 and 11.

The love story of a young French dancer and an American paratrooper who met in wartime London is unfolded on the screen in "Gaby," a new MGM picture in cinema-scope and color, starring Leslie Caron and John Kerr.

Although Miss Caron has some dancing scenes in the story, her role is primarily a dramatic one, in contrast to her recent musical hit, "Daddy Long Legs." John Kerr in the part of the paratrooper, makes his second film appearance, following on his initial hit in "The Cobweb." Previous to that he scored an outstanding success on the Broadway stage in "Tea and Sympathy."

A strong supporting cast is headed by the veteran British actor, Sir Cedric Hardwicke, and Taina Elg, MGM's Finnish import, rapidly rising to stardom, with a third important role filled by the London and New York stage actress, Margalo Gillmore.

The backgrounds of "Gaby," among the most realistic ever created for a motion picture, include London's theatrical district, Covent Garden, Drury Lane and other locales. The city is also shown silhouetted against wartime backgrounds of 1944, with pivotal scenes taking place in air raid shelters and in American and French canteens.

Tomorrow--

In preparation for the first home football game, a Pep Assembly will be held on Thursday, October 4, at 1:30 p. m.

The newly elected cheerleaders have attended a cheerleading clinic in St. Joseph recently, from which they learned various new techniques. The cheerleaders are requesting the whole student body to attend this assembly in order to learn these new yells. The cheerleaders will appreciate everyone's backing and cooperation.

Watch the bulletin boards and posters for the place for the assembly.

Plan Is Approved For New Armory On the Campus

Approval to negotiate for the sale of three acres of land on the north side of the Northwest State College campus for the site of a proposed $184,000 Army Reserve Armory was given Friday by the college board of regents.

The meeting Friday had been scheduled for Tuesday, Sept. 18, but because of the death of Dr. Uel W. Lamkin, president-emeritus of the College, it had been postponed.

Late last year a move was started by the Army Reserve unit here, the Co. B., 327th Engineers Battalion, Combat, and the 979th Engineers reserve unit to get its own building.

In mid-April a military program for a 200-man unit here at a cost of $184,000 was approved in Washington.

Is North of Campus

The site is located north of the College, adjacent the north side of the Wabash right-of-way, opposite the end of Prather Avenue, and is on the west side of College drive going north from the campus.

Two men from the Corps of Army Engineers, which handle construction details, also attended the board of regents meeting. An appraisal of the land for the sale will be made.

It is understood that certain stipulations about the building reverting to the college, should the Armory Reserve unit be abandoned, were included in the action of the Board of Regents.

Col. Knott said that the full size Armory might not be built, because of revisions in the reserve program, but he said the size of the building would not be too far from that originally planned.

Plan for New College Buildings

The board of regents also checked on architectural plans for new College buildings under the $75-

Churchill Learns in Washington, DC

Robert Churchill, a junior at the College, returned from an interesting summer's work at the Naval Research Laboratory in Washington, D. C.

Bob, whose major is physics, received his appointment on the basis of a competitive Civil Service examination.

Each summer the Naval Laboratories accept approximately 10 college students as a part of their training program. The purpose of this program is to familiarize the students with the methods and the equipment used by the laboratory.

The project Bob worked on was operation Vanguard, the earth-satellite program, which is a part of the Geophysical Year.

Scientists from many countries are joining in this operation to learn more about the upper atmosphere. The density of the air, the nature of certain electrical disturbances and the number of tiny molecules to be found are just a few of the things to be learned from this project.

Bob intends to receive his B.S. from the College, but as yet is uncertain about his plans after that.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

by Dick Bibler

"THAT'S MR. HAYWICK—HE'S IN CHARGE OF FRESHMAN ORIENTATION."

To the Freshman:

You have been in college about four weeks. You have had time to learn the differences between your high school days and what will be expected of you in college. One of the main purposes of college is to challenge your abilities; this statement is made with the assumption that you are in college to improve yourself. One of these tests of such improvement will be the success or failure of your work in class; another will be on the social level, centered around your ability to draw and radiate friendship.

Your problems in class are with you and your professors; your problems in social contacts are the problems and the responsibilities of the whole College. You are freshmen; you are also Bearcats. Actions which are undertaken by the upper classmen are supposed to be for your benefit. In its own function the Kangaroo Court is merely another form of "ice breaker" activity; the strain and worries of the classroom are forgotten for a short time in a period of "goofing off" between freshmen and upperclassmen. In a few short weeks or even days, these moments which you will never experience again will be wistful memories of the past.

Boost Your Loan Fund

More than $92,000 has been lent during the past seven years! Yes, that's right. During the past seven years more than $92,000 has been lent to more than 1200 students in the form of student loans, free of interest in any type. In many instances it has been the loan which has been entirely responsible for the education of a student; in other cases only partly.

It certainly is remarkable that so many students have been aided; it is remarkable, too, that nearly all of the loans have been paid promptly. Terms of the loans are established by the students who borrow. They may return the money at any time and in any amounts they specify. It is quite easy to obtain a loan from this fund.

It also seems some students forget to pay. They may honestly not remember that a payment is due, or they may find themselves short of cash and avoid making their payment. In either case, however, they should contact Dr. Sterling Surrey, chairman of the Loan Fund committee, for extensions on loans can be obtained as easily as the loans themselves.

There are hundreds of these programs underway in colleges and universities throughout the country; however, these programs are not usually maintained through such liberal measures in other colleges.

To those who may be behind in their payments: Keep your credit standing good by making a payment or by obtaining an extension now. Do not prevent a fellow student from enjoying the same benefits you have received by remaining a delinquent borrower.

Your Help Is Requested

One of the most noteworthy benevolences which has sprung up on this campus in the past year is the blood donors' list. This list, prepared and administered by Dr. Sterling Surrey, is composed of college students and faculty who have made themselves available to donate blood when an emergency arises at the local hospital.

The "List" has proved itself invaluable a number of times since its origin; this year, however, the "List" is at a dangerously low level and is on the brink of nonexistence. The next time you are on the lower floor of the Administration building pick up a blood donor's card from the bulletin board and fill it out; you'll be glad you did.

Dr. Surrey has done a wonderful job in organizing this list in the past, but more than that, the students who have voluntarily placed their names on the list should be commended. This willingness of Americans to help their fellow citizens in times of distress is one of the factors which keep our country strong.

Local Churches Welcome Students

Students who stay in Maryville over the week ends should be aware of the fact that there are churches of almost every denomination in Maryville.

"We have been appreciative of the part students have played in our church life and wish to welcome the students of 1956 to join us in our program of Bible study and worship," said the Rev. Virgil L. Vaughn, pastor of the First Baptist Church.

Other churches and ministers who extend an open invitation to the College students are as follows: the First Presbyterian Church, the Rev. David H. Thomas; Hope Lutheran Church, the Rev. Stephen J. Korinko; First Church of Christ Scientist; First Christian Church, the Rev. George W. Barger; Methodist Church, the Rev. Monk Bryan; St. Mary's Church, the Rev. Isidore Diebold; St. Patrick's Church, the Rev. Augustine McNeill; Assembly of God, the Rev. A. J. Sovern; St. Paul's Episcopal Church, the Rev. Charles E. Sanders; Church of Christ and Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, Elder Charles Powell.

Students Choose Representatives

Officers for the upper classmen have been chosen recently as follows: Seniors—Lou Haning, president; Dick Frizell, vice-president; Kaye Ferguson, secretary; Jean Swanson, treasurer.

Juniors—Ron Searcy, president; Mert Beuerman, vice-president; Barbara Julius, secretary; R. D. Burns, treasurer.

Sophomores—Harlan Higginbotham, president; Ed Kavanaugh, vice-president; Delivee Cramer, secretary; Robert Wendell James, treasurer.

The Stroller . . .

As the first few colored leaves foretell the coming of beautiful fall weather, the Stroller appears again to reveal and relate.

In Mr. John Taylor's two o'clock Social Science I class several students happened on what they thought to be a phenomenal creature from outer space. Investigation proved it to be a green-eared freshman—the M club again!

The Stroller was happy to see his president, Dr. J. W. Jones, back on the campus last week after his recent illness.

Speaking of the President, has everyone noticed the lifelike oil portrait of him in the Lakeview room of the Union?

The Stroller has become aware in this changeable weather that we choose our clothing on the basis of what will be the least uncomfortable in case there is a weather change.

It has been said that Abraham Lincoln wouldn't have so much trouble getting his education in this day and age. With his height, he would probably get a basketball scholarship.

With so many to help, the Stroller is predicting a very successful production of "Of Thee I Sing, Baby."

They're Talking About . . .

The St. Joseph Jaycee Clown Band and the come-as-you-are dance at the National Guard Armory last Tuesday night . . . matching coins for textbooks in general physics class . . . the Harvest Moon dance last Friday night . . . Tom Johnson getting kicked out of Residence Hall . . .

The formal rush party to be held Thursday, October 4 . . . the Kangaroo Court and those M Club members . . . appetizing menus discussed in one class just before noon . . . no son of a Bearcat on the football team . . . absence of beards and aprons on the campus this fall . . . Walk Out Day . . . Homecoming, October 26 and 27.

Mrs. Jo Ann Taylor is teaching at Wiggins, Colorado, while her husband is attending the State Teachers College at Greeley, Colorado.

Notes About the Faculty . . .

During the past summer, Miss Olive DeLuce continued her studies abroad under the direction of Professor and Artist Henri Goetz, an abstract painter of note in Paris art circles. Miss DeLuce spent much time in Paris; however, trips were taken to the cities of Brittany for the study of church architecture, as well as the pilgrimage cathedral of Vezelay, southeast of Paris, where the first crusade to the Holy Land was organized.

Miss DeLuce was also a delegate to the International Federation of University Women which met in the French capital early in August. Two outstanding events at this time were the opportunity of meeting members of the delegations from the forty-nine national organizations during a reception held in the Louvre, and sessions at the University of Paris popularly known as the Sorbonne. She also visited the children's classes in art conducted at the Musee des Arts Decoratifs.

Miss Lois Simons, dean of women, took a two-month tour of Europe this summer, flying from New York, July 11, and arriving in London the following morning. While in London she was conducted on a tour of the city, seeing such landmarks as the Tower of London, Westminster Abbey, Buckingham Palace (where she watched the changing of the guard), and Piccadilly Circus which is comparable to New York's 42nd and Broadway.

By late July the tour had crossed the Channel from Harwich to the Hook of Holland and was beginning its continental phase. In Amsterdam the group toured the Rijks

Museum where a great number of the works of Rembrandt are on exhibit. Also while in Holland Miss Simons had the rare privilege of seeing the Flower Auction, which is one of Holland's most colorful and exciting sights to visitors.

August found the tour in the plains of Central Germany. While in this area, Miss Simons visited Rothenburg, a city whose people and customs have not changed five hundred years.

Austria was the next country, after a short stay at Salzburg, the tour crossed the Brenner Pass into Italy. In Italy, Miss Simons visited the cities of Venice, Florence, Assisi, and Rome. After a week's stay in Rome the tour moved to the Italian Riviera to Rapallo and Genoa before moving inland to Milan.

Switzerland was next, Lucerne and Berne. In Switzerland Miss Simons was greatly impressed by the cleanliness of the Swiss people and the beauty of the Swiss countryside.

Miss Mary Keith of the education department returned this fall from a six weeks' European seminar. The seminar in which Miss Keith traveled was one of the world-famous Sherwood Eddy seminars, established in 1920.

Countries and points of interest on the tour were London, England; Paris, France; Bonn, Germany; West and East Berlin; Venice, Italy; and Belgrad, Zagreb and Dubrovnik, Yugoslavia.

The trip divided at Belgrad where 43 of its members going to Russia. Miss Keith followed the southern tour through Italy before returning home.

Campus Briefs

O. Myking Mehus, chief, Vocational Rehabilitation and Education Division, Veterans Administration, was a visitor on the campus last Thursday. He is a former member of the College faculty. He now lives in Kansas City and supervises work in Missouri and Kansas.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Cooksey announce the arrival of a baby girl born August 2.

Lt. and Mrs. Paul Fisher announce the birth of a baby girl on August 28.

Evan Agenstein, of St. Joseph, attended the White House Conference held here. He is now mathematics instructor at Lafayette High School and is president of the Missouri State Teachers Association District 8, composed of St. Joseph teachers. He is an alumnus of the College.

Mrs. Earl J. Nadeau, of Lancaster, Pennsylvania, was on the campus Thursday with her son, Dan. They and her other son, Randall, 5 months, had returned Maryville to be with her grandfather on his 90th birthday.

The Reading Clinic has been informed that the test scores on the entrance examinations have been received from Warrensburg. Sections for effective reading will be arranged and in session in the near future.

Dr. George R. Gayler of the social science department had an article published in the Journal of the Illinois State History Society. His article was entitled "The Mathematics and Politics in Illinois: 1818 to 1844."

Milner's Men Meet Liberty Here Oct. 6

Coach Ryland Milner's Bearcats begin their 45th home schedule Saturday night at 8 p.m. when they entertain the William Jewell Cardinals. After three games away, the team will play in Memorial Stadium for the eighth meeting of the two schools. This game is the last warm-up before the rugged MFAA conference play.

Norris A. Patterson, the Jewell coach, has won impressive victories this year over Springfield and Ottawa. The Cardinals operate from both the multiple T and the single wing, using a series of spinners and end runs. Georgeoff and Younger furnish most of the speed in the Jewell back field; Hawkins is a wing back and the best passer on the team. Kincaid at center bolsters the line which was hurt by graduation.

This will be the first opportunity to see the home team in action and the support of all is necessary to insure a victory against this dangerous ball club.

Even though the team has been hampered this season with several of the veterans being hurt in the early games, Coach Ryland Milner has formed from the Split T a dangerous passing attack. John Schulze, starting right guard, has been troubled with a knee injury. Darrell Walker, the ever dangerous quarterback, has been played sparingly because of injuries. The starting line-up Saturday will be as follows:

LE, Cromer; LT, Horner; LG, Taylor; C, Haskey or Rowan; RG, Schulze; RT, Flanagan; RE, Maher or Rowley; QB, Walker or O'Dell; LH, Clark; RH, Mallen; FB, Stevens or Cole.

As the season becomes older our Bearcats, the youngest team in the MFAA, should really progress into a smooth operating machine.

Phillips, Alcorn Battle for Title
